Tobacco Growers

Last week marked a new declaration of independence by Tobacco Growers of Virginia and the Carolinas.

At mass meetings in three States Tobacco Growers approved a plan of marketing their product and a declaration of independence in contract form, which are the beginning of a revolution in the tobacco industry, that promises the planter a new era of prosperity through the cooperative pooling and marketing of his own product.

Gov. Westmoreland Davis, addressing representatives from every tobacco growing section of Virginia, in the auditorium of Lynchburg last week, heartily endorsed the plan of cooperative marketing submitted to the planters of Virginia and the Carolinas by Aaron Sapiro, of California, counsel for 14 successful cooperative farmers' exchanges on the Pacific Coast.

"The fall to present prices of tobacco is not warranted by overproduction", said the Californian, who cited the findings of the Federal Trade Commission, that six large tobacco companies have been purchasing on direct orders from the Universal Company which has dictated prices. Mr. Sapiro called the present system "rotten", and showed the Virginia Tobacco Growers how the contract would enable them to form an association as successful as those of the raisin growers, prune growers, wheat growers and other well organized farm industries of the West, by converting the present hit and miss system of the tobacco belt into a practical commercial system.

With a prophesy that the signing of the contarct by 50% of the growers in the old tobacco belt, would prove a declaration of independence for the tobacco planter and tenants of the South, the California organizer showed how the marvelous prosperity of the raisin growers of California grew directly out of a similar contract.

"This contract represents $50,000,000 worth of experience its ideas are ideas proved by experience and worthy of acceptance", said the Californian, who further explained that the cooperative marketing contract would insure the farmer a fair and steady profit, without exploitation, and forever do away with the excessive profiteering of the manufacturer and middleman.

Following the mass meetings in Lynchburg, Va, Raleigh N. C., and Florence S. C., organization of three States will begin at an early date, with a campaign foramembership of 75,000 growers in the Association which proposes to revolutionize the Tobacco Growing industry of the United States

The present organization of the Tobacco Growers Association, under which thousands of Virginians and Carolinians are mobilized, thoroughly roused the Growers' tobacco pool and cooperative marketing association

To insure the future of the Tobacco Growers of Virginia and the Carolinas, 50% of the planters of three States are needed in the organization, which calls for a member fee of three dollars a year, and the signing of an iron clad contract to cover tobacco sales for five years. The membership dues of present members of the Tobacbo Growers Association will be deducted from membership fees in the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Marketing Association, for which the devoted efforts of the State and County units of the Growers Association have laid a most effective groundwork.

Buckingham

The Farmers Union met here on Saturday—a splendid set of Virginians; these men are too, they talked farming, swopped ideas on many subjects including the political situation. They mentioned in private their individual opinion of the two candidates who have announced their candidacy for the position of legislator from this county, Dr. P. E. Tucker and attorney John B. Boatwright, and the subject was broached of urging some staunch farmer to stand for the nomination Mr. Trinkle is out in a circular letter announcing his candidacy for the Govenorship subject to the Democratic primary. I hope Mr. Trinkle and Mr Tucker will both come here and address our people and let this be a campaign of education.

Judge Hall has not been well of late, and he left Saturday for Atlanta, Georgia, for continued treatment.

The past few weeks I have read Pendennis by Thackery and I could but be impressed with the loftiness of this author in comparison with the modern writers of fiction of course I do not mean such men as Thomas Nelson Page or Fox or men of that ilk, but truly there are so many trashy novels.

Diligent enquiry failed to inform me as to who got the various mail routes, though rumor had it that one contractor had both the Dillwyn and Farmville mails to their place He will be sure to get the Star routes at a figure to law to pay them for the exposure they have to endure.

Mr. A. J. Straup and Mr Thomas Hacket both lost their houses by fire last week and they both lived near the road leading from here to Wingina

A merchant told me today that the freight on 100 pounds of sugar from Richmond to Dillwyn was 50 cents.

Fine ice was harvested here and at other points in the county last week.

Mr. Thomas B. Hall sold tobacco on the Farmville market the past week at an average price of $12 per hundred. Mr Edward Patteson sold some of his best tobacco on the Dillwyn market at $15 per hundred $45 a hundred is said to be the best price paid for tobacco in Farmville this season.

McAdoo, Former Secretary of Treasury says: put Brakes upon Deflation

Policies thus far pursued with respect to credits have been too drastic. A more liberal policy about credits should be put into effect immediately.

Reserve bank rates could be prudently reduced. Member banks could be safely encouraged to make loans on agricultural products and to business generally on reasonable time to those who can give adequate security. The whole situation would be beneficially affected by this procedure.

Every intelligent person sympathizes with the effort to prevent speculation and the use of credit for purposes not beneficial to the general interest, but a wise discrimination should be exercised, and certainly the primary producer like the farmer should not be forced to bear the brunt of the sacrifices.

In many parts of the country especially in the agricultural districts, credit is almost entirely wanting and in many lines of legitimative business and industry great losses are being sustained because of the restriction of credits.

Deflation has been carried so far and with such rapitidy that we must now reconsider the situation, make an effort to prevent further distress and suffering, and bring about a revival of industry and confidence.

We should make every effort to stimulate and enlarge our export trade. This is especially important to the farmers, because approximately 50 per cent of our export trade represents agricultural products. European nations desire our cotton, grain and other products, but have no credit. It is to our interest to supply that credit.

The recent action of the league of nations, at Geneva, for the establishment of an international commission to consolidate the credits of some of the Central European powers and utilize them in the purchase of American commodities, is an important step and offers a new opportunity for helpful service by the War finance Corporation.

Advertising in the Country Weekly

Advertising in the country weekly is the most valuable advertising in the world. Expert advertisers say it is not only the most valuable but the most scientific advertising in the world. Advertising in the magazines has to be general, for the reason that the average magazine that you receive today was set in type several weeks ago, and the advertising copy was probably prepared several weeks before that. This means that advertisers in the magazines have to anticipate conditions several weeks in advance of the time the copy is prepared.

This is not so with advertising in the country weekly, for the country weekly has the advantage over the magazine in that the weekly circulates in a comparatively small territory and the name of the merchant or the business man who is selling the goods can be placed in the advertisement. This is impossible in magazine advertising, which covers sometimes the whole nation.

The weekly newspaper also is considered the best advertising medium in the world by expert advertisers for the reason that it has a more intimate association with the family than a magazine or a daily newspaper.

No local merchant can afford not to advertise in weekly newspapers of the better class. It is a sad commentary upon many town business men that they don't see the advantage to them of carrying an advertisement in the small town paper every single week. Such an advertisement is the cheapest salesman that a merchant can employ. The money spent in advertising in the better class of weekly newspapers is an investment and not an expense; and it is the best paying investment that the merchant can make; but not one in a thousand publishers of the weekly papers is compensated anywhere near what he is worth to the merchants and to the community in which he lives and to whose interests he dedicates his life. Every editor of a weekly newspaper is constantly working in behalf of every merchant in his community, whether that merchant patronizes the local paper or not; but every merchant of every community, unfortunately, does not have the business common sense and the business foresight to see that it is to his own personal advantage to help support the country editor by advertising — telling the people in the newspaper what he has, how it can be used and what it costs.

Now The Accepted Time For Live Stock in South

"Conditions are now ideal for building a real live stock industry in the South," says Roland Turner, general agricultural agent of the Southern Railway System, who declares that the present depression, due largely to the one-crop system, would be impossible under a well-balanced system of diversified farming and live stock raising.

"Good pure bred, registered dairy cattle, beef cattle and hogs," says Mr. Turner, "can now be bought at prices in keeping with conditions and with the market prices for dairy products and meat animals. To succeed at live stock raising we must improve our old pastures and prepare new ones. We must raise more leguminous feeds. Proper crop rotation with live stock will build up the fertility of our exhausted soils and will also help greatly in improving farm labor conditions by better distributin the farm work.

"The Southern Railway Development Service, "Mr Turner adds "desires to aid farmers in starting right with live stock will send its live stock bulletins on request, and offers the services of its trained workers to farmers wishing advice and assistance in feed production, care of animals, and the locating and selection of animals for breeding purposes, stockers or feeders."

Tribute to Agriculturist.

"The agricultural population," says Pope, "produces the bravest men, valiant soldiers, and a class of citizens the least given of all to evil designs."

Why Suffer?

Cardui "Did Wonders for Me," Declares This Lady.

"I suffered for a long time with womanly weakness," says Mrs. J. R Simpson, of 57 Spruce St., Asheville, N. C. "I finally got to the place where it was an effort for me to go. I would have bearing-down pains in my side and back — especially severe across my back, and down in my side there was a great deal of soreness. I was nervous and easily upset.

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

"I heard of Cardui and decided to use it," continues Mrs. Simpson. "I saw shortly it was benefiting me, so I kept it up and it did wonders for me. And since then I have been glad to praise Cardui. It is the best woman's tonic made." Weak women need a tonic. Thousands and thousands, like Mrs. Simpson, have found Cardui of benefit to them. Try Cardui for your trouble.
